

The People's Column

Tickets are selling slowly for the Metropolitan Grand Opera company performance Thursday night at the Assembly Hall at A. and M. College. This performance will be the musical treat of the season, and Bryan people should be glad of the opportunity of seeing this show. This program will be as good as any ever seen in Houston or Dallas, and is being brought here for a nominal price. Furthermore, if there are not a large number of tickets sold to this opera it means that the College will not attempt to bring other big attractions. This performance will serve as a test of whether or not we will support the best offerings on the road. Let's prove that we appreciate good entertainment by going tomorrow night.

ABOUT BRYAN

We have heard of complicated plots, but the one in the Sedgwick players performance last night at the Palace, which was a good show and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, takes the prize. The banker was crooked, his son was an idiot, the home was mortgaged, taxes were unpaid, the leading man was just out of Sing Sing, the peace officer was drunk, the leading lady was just out of a theatrical company that had gone broke, but it all ended with everybody happy except the banker and his son.

It is reported in Bryan that Sidney Young was killed in the store of Bob Trant of Keith, Grimes county, last night. The store had been robbed several times lately, and Monday afternoon Mr. Trant rigged up a gun to the back door. When the door opened the gun fired. Tuesday morning Sidney Young, a white youth, was found dead in the store.

"When I Was 21"

FATHER BASIL BRAVI, O. S. B. "When I was 21 I was a student of St. Anselm of the University of Rome," stated Father Basil Bravi, Order of St. Benedict, who is rector of the St. Anthony church in Bryan.

Father Bravi attended the University for seven years, and received his degree of Master of Divinity. Among the courses he studied were Greek, Hebrew, English, Aramaic, Ecclesiastical History, Christian Archeology, Dogmatic Theology, Moral Theology, Gregorian Chant, and Patristics.

When he completed his college course he was appointed professor of Biblical Exegesis at the University of Rome. He was forced to resign this position when the war broke out and became a lieutenant in the Italian army. After the war he was appointed rector of St. Gregory church in Rome, where he remained for three years.

The bishop of St. Benedict sent Father Bravi to the United States, his first position being as rector of the church at Altoona, Penn. He stayed there one year.

The bishop of Galveston called him to the St. Anthony church in Bryan six years ago, and during his tenure here he has been instrumental in building up one of the most active churches in this section.

AGED WAR HERO DIES AT AUSTIN

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Gen. A. S. Roberts, 82, who as a Lieutenant in the famous Travis Rifles assumed command of the Austin company and guarded Governor Coke's Democratic Legislature in 1874, died here early Tuesday. The funeral probably will be Thursday or Friday.

Gov. Coke had been elected to succeed E. J. Davis, carpetbagger Governor of the State. Fearing trouble from carpetbaggers at his inauguration, Gov. Coke called out the Travis Rifles, one of the earliest Texas military organizations. M. D. Mather, Captain of the company, did not answer the call, but Lieut. Roberts, loyal Southerner, assumed command and marched the Rifles to the Capitol, where the Democratic Legislature was seated.

Gen. Roberts was the father of Henry Chalmers Roberts, war correspondent and editor, now editor of the World Today in London.

JIM IS SUED FOR $100,000

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Alma Purvis, formerly of Panola county and now a resident of Houston, Tuesday filed suit in civil district court here for $100,000 damages against James E. Ferguson, Leo Bird, sheriff of Panola county, and Simon Purvis, her former husband, alleging the three defendants entered into a conspiracy to defame her character by including libelous matter in a proclamation of pardon for Purvis.

Based of the suit is a letter written by Mr. Bird on Dec. 7, 1926, to the board of pardons, recommending the pardoning of Purvis, who was serving a sentence of 10 years in the state penitentiary on a murder charge.

This letter, the petition alleges, contained matter damaging to Mrs. Purvis, and that the libelous allegation was quoted by Mr. Ferguson in the proclamation, which the petition says is in his handwriting, pardoning Purvis. The alleged libel, the petition says, was broadcast by news agencies and made generally known over the state to her detriment.

Mrs. Purvis asks $50,000 actual damages for the injury to her reputation and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Longhorns Lose To T. C. U., 28-24

Completely upsetting the "dope" the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs defeated the Longhorns in Austin last night, 28 to 24 according to Coach E. J. "Doc" Steward in long distance conversation to the Eagle today. The outcome of the game was in none of the State papers reaching here this morning and the Eagle office had many calls asking for the results.

Mr. Stewart said T. C. U. had a much stronger team than anyone had any idea. He said that he believed every team in the conference except the Aggies are practically unbeatable at College Station, in his opinion. He said the Longhorns have "a very good team" but doubts if it is of championship stripe.

He said that if the University Athletic Council has any idea of renewing his contract he had heard nothing of it lately. "I do not know what my strength is with the athletic council," he said. "If they offer me the place again I'll telephone you immediately," he promised. He said to give his regards to local friends.

BRAZOS FARMER MAKES READY WHILE SUN SHINES

A. H. Keller of Kurten was in Bryan today trading with our merchants and was an appreciated visitor at the Eagle office. Mr. Keller has already begun getting his land in readiness for next year's crop. He is one of Brazos county's farmers who believes in making ready while the sun shines. He is also sold to diversification and good certified seed as two essentials for the success of farming. When asked if he would cut his cotton acreage he answered, "No, I only plant 18 acres to cotton." The remainder of his land is planted to corn, oats, sorghum, and peas. He also cultivates a garden and has plenty of chickens to supply meat and eggs, cows for butter and milk and hogs for lard and bacon. Farmers who practice such diversification have no regrets when the cotton drops to 11 cents.

Jenkins Honored By Firemen Group

"Honor where honor is due" has been given, and a host of friends in Bryan join with the members of the Fire Department in according praise to Mr. Jenkins for his unusual record of splendid service through all the years.

June 8, 1885, Chas. E. Jenkins joined the Bryan Fire Department. In 1890 he was made chief and served for one year. He was again elected chief in 1902, which place he has held continuously with the exception of a few months, until his resignation, this week, January 1927 a term of 25 years.

RAISING FUND FOR DETROIT PITCHERS NOT CORRUPTION

Commissioner Landis Exonerates All Players Involved in 1917 Series Between Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox; Does Not Believe Players Sloughed Games

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—All baseball players involved in alleged scandal surrounding the White Sox-Detroit series in 1917 were exonerated by Commissioner Landis today. His decision ruled that fund collected by White Sox and paid to Detroit pitchers was reward to pitchers for beating Boston and not for sloughing games to White Sox. Commissioner held that there was no sloughing unless Gandil and Risberg, who made accusations, were guilty. Decision censured collection of funds to reward Detroit pitchers but said such action, while reprehensible, was not corrupt.

Texas Population Will Show Growth

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The estimated population of Texas under the 1930 census has been placed at 5,662,000 and on that figure the state stands to gain two seats in the House of Representatives. The present basis is retained in the next apportionment bill. The figures were revealed by Director William Stewart of the Census Bureau, appearing before the Census Committee, considering bill providing reapportionment under the 1930 estimate and stipulating that it shall not become effective until 1932.

Dr. Stewart estimated that the total population of the Nation will be increased from 105,000,000 to 128,000,000, and if the membership is retained at 435, 12 states will lose a total of 24 seats and 16 will gain that number. The greatest increase will be in California, which stands to gain five seats. If Texas gains two under the next apportionment, it will have a membership of 20 instead of 18 as at present.

A. E. Wood Of Granger Is Elected Speaker Pro Tem of Texas Senate; Carl Phinney Is Named Chief Clerk

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Democracy as applied to election of public servants functioned tediously Tuesday as the house of the Fortieth legislature consumed the entire day getting organized and hearing nominating speeches for everybody from the speaker down to the assistant doorkeeper.

While statesmen of the illustrious past looked down from their portrait frames on the walls, the Fortieth house elected all those who have to be elected, heard them swear they never had fought a duel, heard resolutions on routine matters presented and then listened to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's message read as it was in the senate earlier. By that time it was 6 o'clock and the session adjourned to 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, unopposed for speakership, rode into that office on a crest of eulogy started by Alfred P. C. Petch of Fredericksburg, who placed him in nomination.

Voted in by acclamation, Speaker Bobbitt took the chair and admonished the representatives to concentrate on really "big issues" and eliminate non-essentials during the session, which is faced with perhaps more deferred business than any other in the state history. He further counseled them to distinguish between legislation sought by deserving public interests and other interests not so public and not so deserving.

Returning to session at 3 p. m. after an hour's intermission, the house became involved in a mass of nominating speeches and balloting that after some two and a half hours resulted in election of the following:

Carl Phinney, clerk of the house, reelected; Joe White, San Antonio, sergeant at arms, reelected; A. C. Dunn, former member of the legislature from Falls county, reading clerk; Percy Foreman, assistant reading clerk; J. M. Robinson, journal clerk, reelected; Mrs. V. B. Fulger, calendar clerk, reelected; W. M. Dickinson, doorkeeper; G. A. Atkinson, assistant doorkeeper; J. C. Mitchell, chaplain; Robert Lee Bobbitt Jr., mascot.

Speaker Bobbitt announced that members of standing committees will not be appointed until later this week.

A. E. Wood of Granger, was unanimously chosen president pro tem of the senate.

Mrs. W. R. Ettle Leaves For Taft

Mrs. W. R. Ettle, who has been visiting Mrs. John F. Ettle and Mrs. George Hadley in Bryan for the past week, was called to Taft, Tuesday afternoon by a message from her sister, Mrs. Mat. M. Burford, telling of the sudden death of her husband, M. M. Burford Tuesday noon. When Mr. Burford did not come to dinner at 12 o'clock Mrs. Burford sent a man from the house to look for him and he was found dead in the field where he had been at work. Deceased was in his usual good health to all appearances and his death was wholly unexpected. It is a sad coincidence, that Mrs. Ettle lost her husband by death in a similar manner only four months ago, when W. R. Ettle fell from his horse as he was about his work on their plantation in Brazos Bottom. Mrs. Burford was formerly Miss Lizzie Gentry and Mrs. Ettle Miss Lelia Gentry, before their marriage. They were both born and reared in Brazos County. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to these sisters in their bereavement.

Visiting In Bryan

Miss Lucile Robinson of Hempstead, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Josie Sheets in this city this week, will remain over this week-end before returning to her home.

BRAZOS COUNTY

Boys' and Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Prospect Club Organized

Another new club has joined the ranks. The Prospect Club has organized and held its first joint meeting on last Saturday night. Many adult people were in attendance and all seemed to enjoy the meeting very much. Superintendent D. J. McDonald made an interesting talk, in which he declared his attitude in favor of club work, adding that for many years he had observed its progress and its effect in stimulating boys and girls to greater usefulness in life. He called attention to the fact that the fine hogs being raised by William Manthei of Kurten came from the stock that club members bred up in Williamson county, Texas, several years ago.

The Prospect club will have the joint meeting the third Friday night in each month, to which all are cordially invited.

Beason Offers Prize

State Club Leader Sterling C. Evans, thinks it best to award the registered Jersey, which County Agent Beason is giving to club work, to the club member who makes the highest general average in club work during the year. So, one, two, go! Who will be the winner of this heifer? It is likely she will be delivered to the winner during the Annual Poultry Show, December 1, 2, 3. In this event, your record will be called for not later than December 1.

Our enterprising young dairyman, Carl Wipprecht, has agreed to breed the heifer so she will be about ready to freshen when delivered to the club member who puts the job over in best shape, according to the verdict of the judges.

Club Work Progressing

Club records coming in show some very interesting data on the various club projects. Most of them show a nice margin of profit on each project, but like many farmers, some come out in the "red." One cotton club member reports a production of 500 pounds of seed cotton on one acre costing $16.30, while the market price was only $16.00, thus leaving him 30 cents loss. Another club member in the same community reports a production of 5358 pounds of seed cotton on three acres, cost of production given at $81.40, market price $486.98, thus leaving a profit of $405.58. Why such difference?

From the way the Prospect club members performed last Saturday night in the cracker eating contest it will not be long before they will be ready to challenge Peter Castalina of Steele's Store. Say when you are ready.

Club Repeat Delayed

Owing to the holidays and the rush of work coming on the county agent and the home demonstration agent, the last club report of the year in the Howell Lumber company contest has been delayed. It is hoped that this report will be ready to announce within ten days. In the meantime, each club should go right on with the work, holding meetings and planning work for the year—the greatest we have yet seen in club work. Chicago trips, trips to the Dallas fair, Fat Stock Show and other wonderful treats awaiting club members whose achievements are outstanding. Begin now to put your work and the work of your club in the lead.

Agent Kept Busy

Among those calling on the county agent Monday for help in terracing were John Andert of Kurten, L. F. Mahle of Reliance, A. C. Williams of Harvey, W. E. Graham of Wellborn, and County Agent Preston Goen of Sabine county. It is no uncommon thing for a group of farmers to want such help on one and the same day but it is not humanly possible to reach all in one day and perhaps a hitch in the program will delay the work on some particular farm for 30 days or more. Remember, there are more than 3000 farms in Brazos county.

Build House First

Dr. R. C. Dunn, veterinarian of the A. and M. College says that if he were going into the poultry business, the first thing he would do, would be to build a poultry house. In other words, the Doctor thinks we sometimes get the "cart before the horse", in our eagerness to get started, so to speak.

Program Ready

The program committee of the Brazos County Poultry Association states they will have the year's program ready for publication within a few days. When the announcement is made, those interested in the poultry business should file the schedule for future reference and not miss a single meeting of the year. United we put the work over in great shape; divided, we bring disaster on others as well as ourselves.

Robert Lange of Kurten was in Bryan today enroute to Fort Worth.

On Wednesday 10 a. m. at the St. Joseph's Catholic church of Bryan, Miss Mary Operateny was united in marriage to Frank Wisowski of College. Father J. B. Gleissner performed the ceremony. Those in attendance to the bride were: Messrs. John and Adolph Operateny, John Wisoski; Maids of honor, Misses Annie Wisoski, Gussie Ender, Annie Sebesta and the flower girls: Misses Frances and Henrietta Kolodejak. After the ceremony the happy couple left for the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Komar, where a host of friends and relatives awaited their return. The bountiful dinner and supper were greatly enjoyed by all. The music started early in the afternoon and the many friends present enjoyed dancing until 2 a. m. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wisoski will make their future home at College Station.

The People's Column

Tickets are selling slowly for the Metropolitan Grand Opera company performance Thursday night at the Assembly Hall at A. and M. College. This performance will be the musical treat of the season, and Bryan people should be glad of the opportunity of seeing this show. This program will be as good as any ever seen in Houston or Dallas, and is being brought here for a nominal price. Furthermore, if there are not a large number of tickets sold to this opera it means that the College will not attempt to bring other big attractions. This performance will serve as a test of whether or not we will support the best offerings on the road. Let's prove that we appreciate good entertainment by going tomorrow night.

ABOUT BRYAN

We have heard of complicated plots, but the one in the Sedgwick players performance last night at the Palace, which was a good show and thoroughly enjoyed by the audience, takes the prize. The banker was crooked, his son was an idiot, the home was mortgaged, taxes were unpaid, the leading man was just out of Sing Sing, the peace officer was drunk, the leading lady was just out of a theatrical company that had gone broke, but it all ended with everybody happy except the banker and his son.

It is reported in Bryan that Sidney Young was killed in the store of Bob Trant of Keith, Grimes county, last night. The store had been robbed several times lately, and Monday afternoon Mr. Trant rigged up a gun to the back door. When the door opened the gun fired. Tuesday morning Sidney Young, a white youth, was found dead in the store.

"When I Was 21"

FATHER BASIL BRAVI, O. S. B. "When I was 21 I was a student of St. Anselm of the University of Rome," stated Father Basil Bravi, Order of the St. Benedict, who is rector of the St. Anthony church in Bryan.

Father Bravi attended the University for seven years, and received his degree of Master of Divinity. Among the courses he studied were Greek, Hebrew, English, Aramaic, Ecclesiastical History, Christian Archeology, Dogmatic Theology, Moral Theology, Gregorian Chant, and Patristic.

When he completed his college course he was appointed professor of Biblical Exegesis at the University of Rome. He was forced to resign this position when the war broke out and became a lieutenant in the Italian army. After the war he was appointed rector of St. Gregory church in Rome, where he remained for three years.

The Bishop of St. Benedict sent Father Bravi to the United States, his first position being as rector of the church at Altoona, Penn. He stayed there one year.

The bishop of Galveston called him to the St. Anthony church in Bryan six years ago, and during his tenure here he has been instrumental in building up one of the most active churches in this section.

Newspaper Man To Be Secretary For Texas' Governor

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Governor Ellet Dan Moody's first partial list of appointments to his official family announced Tuesday, includes former Gov. Joseph D. Sayers of Austin, chairman of the Board of Pardons; Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum of Austin, Secretary of State; W. Boyd Gatewood of Houston, secretary to the Governor; and J. D. Hall of Georgetown, first assistant secretary to the Governor. The Governor-elect said no additional appointments would be made public until positions have become vacant, indicating that the full personnel of his cabinet will not be known until after his inauguration, Jan. 18.

Gov. Sayers, who is to be the Board of Pardons chairman, is 94 years old and was Governor of Texas from 1899 to 1903 and previous to that time had served in the National Congress seven terms and was once Lieutenant Governor. He was a Major in the Confederate Army and formerly lived at Bastrop.

Mrs. McCallum will be Texas' second woman to serve as Secretary of State, succeeding Mrs. Emma Grigsby Meharg, now serving under appointment of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson.

Mrs. McCallum has been identified with all of the organized activities of Texas women during recent years, having held positions in the several organizations and as a member of the legislative boards. She has been active in prison reform work, the League of Women Voters, the W. C. T. U., the State Federation, Parent-Teachers and other women's clubs.

Mrs. McCallum is the wife of Professor A. N. McCallum, long-time superintendent of the Austin public schools, and was a Miss Yelvington before her marriage. She has a grown family and one son, Bud, was a star football player on the University of Texas Longhorns. Her only married daughter lives in Houston.

During last summer's campaign Mrs. McCallum was in charge of the women's movement in behalf of Moody and maintained offices here.

Gatewood, who is to be "shock absorber" in Moody's office, is a newspaper man of fifteen years' experience and most recently Austin staff correspondent for the Houston Post-Dispatch. He is 35 years of age.

Hall, first assistant secretary, was formerly court reporter in the Williamson County District Court at Georgetown.

JIM IS SUED FOR $100,000

(By Associated Press) HOUSTON, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Alma Purvis, formerly of Panola county and now a resident of Houston, Tuesday filed suit in civil district court here for $100,000 damages against James E. Ferguson, Leo Bird, sheriff of Panola county, and Simon Purvis, her former husband, alleging the three defendants entered into a conspiracy to defame her character by including libelous matter in a proclamation of pardon for Purvis.

Basis of the suit is a letter written by Mr. Bird on Dec. 7, 1926, to the board of pardons, recommending the pardoning of Purvis, who was serving a sentence of 10 years in the state penitentiary on a murder charge.

This letter, the petition alleges, contained matter damaging to Mrs. Purvis, and that the libelous allegation was quoted by Mr. Ferguson in the proclamation, which the petition says is in his handwriting, pardoning Purvis. The alleged libel, the petition says, was broadcast by news agencies and made generally known over the state to her detriment.

Mrs. Purvis asks $50,000 actual damages for the injury to her reputation and $50,000 exemplary damages.

Longhorns Lose To T. C. U., 28-24

Completely upsetting the "dope" the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs defeated the Longhorns in Austin last night, 28 to 24 according to Coach E. J. "Doc" Steward in long distance conversation to the Eagle today. The outcome of the game was in none of the State papers reaching here this morning and the Eagle office had many calls asking for the results.

Mr. Stewart said T. C. U. had a much stronger team than anyone had any idea. He said that he believed every team in the conference had a strong quintet this year adding that the Aggies are practically unbeatable at College Station, in his opinion. He said the Longhorns have "a very good team" but doubts if it is of championship stripe.

He said that if the University Athletic Council has any idea of renewing his contract he had heard nothing of it lately. "I do not know what my strength is with the athletic council," he said. "If they offer me the place again I'll telephone you immediately," he promised. He said to give his regards to local friends.

BRAZOS FARMER MAKES READY WHILE SUN SHINES

A. H. Keller of Kurten was in Bryan today trading with our merchants and was an appreciated visitor at the Eagle office. Mr. Keller has already begun getting his land in readiness for next year's crop. He is one of Brazos county's farmers who believes in making ready while the sun shines. He is also sold to diversification and good certified seed as two essentials for the success of farming. When asked if he would cut his cotton acreage he answered, "No, I only plant 18 acres to cotton." The remainder of his land is planted to corn, oats, sorghum, and peas. He also salsifies a garden and has plenty of chickens to supply meat and eggs, cows for butter and milk and hogs for lard and bacon. Farmers who practice such diversification have no regrets when the cotton drops to 11 cents.

Jenkins Honored By Firemen Group

The people of Bryan appreciate the honor bestowed upon Chas. E. Jenkins of this city, when the Bryan Fire Department upon his resignation of Chief, elected Mr. Jenkins, Honorary Chief for life. "Honor where honor is due" has been given, and a host of friends in Bryan join with the members of the Fire Department in according praise to Mr. Jenkins for his unusual record of splendid service through all the years.

June 8, 1885, Chas. E. Jenkins joined the Bryan Fire Department. In 1890 he was made chief and served for one year. He was again elected chief in 1902, which place he has held continuously with the exception of a few months, until his resignation, this week, January 1927 a term of 25 years.

RAISING FUND FOR DETROIT PITCHERS NOT CORRUPTION

Commissioner Landis Exonerates All Players Involved in 1917 Series Between Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox; Does Not Believe Players Sloughed Games

(By Associated Press) CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 12.—All baseball players involved in alleged scandal surrounding the White Sox-Detroit series in 1917 were exonerated by Commissioner Landis today. His decision ruled that fund collected by White Sox and paid to Detroit pitchers was reward to pitchers for beating Boston and not for sloughing games to White Sox. Commissioner held that there was no sloughing unless Gandil and Risberg, who made accusations, were guilty. Decision censured collection of funds to reward Detroit pitchers but said such action, while reprehensible, was not corrupt.

Texas Population Will Show Growth

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The estimated population of Texas under the 1930 census has been placed at 5,662,000 and on that figure the state stands to gain two seats in the House of Representatives. The present basis is retained in the next apportionment bill. The figures were revealed by Director William Stewart of the Census Bureau, appearing before the Census Committee, considering a bill providing reapportionment under the 1930 estimate and stipulating that it shall not become effective until 1932.

Dr. Stewart estimated that the total population of the Nation will be increased from 105,000,000 to 128,000,000, and if the membership is retained at 435, 12 states will lose a total of 24 seats and 16 will gain that number. The greatest increase will be in California, which stands to gain five seats. If Texas gains two under the next apportionment, it will have a membership of 20 instead of 18 as at present.

A. E. Wood Of Granger Is Elected Speaker Pro Tem of Texas Senate; Carl Phinney Is Named Chief Clerk

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—Democracy as applied to election of public servants functioned tediously Tuesday as the house of the Fortieth legislature consumed the entire day getting organized and hearing nominating speeches for everybody from the speaker down to the assistant doorkeeper.

While statesmen of the illustrious past looked down from their portrait frames on the walls, the Fortieth house elected all those who have to be elected, heard them swear they never had fought a duel, heard resolutions on routine matters presented and then listened to Governor Miriam A. Ferguson's message read as it was in the senate earlier. By that time it was 6 o'clock and the session adjourned to 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

R. L. Bobbitt of Laredo, unopposed for speakership, rode into that office on a crest of eulogy started by Alfred P. C. Petsch of Fredericksburg, who placed him in nomination.

Voted in by acclamation, Speaker Bobbitt took the chair and admonished the representatives to concentrate on really "big issues" and eliminate non-essentials during the session, which is faced with perhaps more deferred business than any other in the state history. He further counseled them to distinguish between legislation sought by deserving public interests and other interests not so public and not so deserving.

Mrs. W. R. Ettle Leaves For Taft

Mrs. W. R. Ettle, who has been visiting Mrs. John F. Ettle and Mrs. George Hadley in Bryan for the past week, was called to Taft, Tuesday afternoon by a message from her sister, Mrs. Mat. M. Burford, telling of the sudden death of her husband, M. M. Burford, Tuesday noon. When Mr. Burford did not come to dinner at 12 o'clock Mrs. Burford sent a man from the house to look for him and he was found dead in the field where he had been at work. Deceased was in his usual good health to all appearances and his death was wholly unexpected. It is a sad coincidence, that Mrs. Ettle lost her husband by death in a similar manner only four months ago, when W. R. Ettle fell from his horse as he was about his work on their plantation in Brazos County. Mrs. Burford was formerly Miss Lizzie Gentry and Mrs. Ettle Miss Lelia Gentry, before their marriage. They were both born and reared in Brazos County. Heartfelt sympathy is extended to these sisters in their bereavement.

Love Cold Toward Texas Lobbyists
(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Jan. 12.—The lobbyist is going to have a hard time around the Texas legislature if Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas succeeds in pushing through his proposed amendment to the senate rules.
Senator Love's bill would require the registry of all lobbyists, giving their names and the names of their corporations they represent. The proposed bill also would hold in contempt anyone who attempted to influence any senator for or against proposed legislation.

Texas Great Missionary Field
BY DR. JNO. A. HELD
Standing at the Arch of Triumph in Paris one day, whence leads off the most beautiful street in France the Champs de Elyees, I saw humanity surging as the waves of the restless sea, while my heart beat with sympathy for the souls of the multitude. Their restlessness was indicative of their unhappiness. Their souls hungered for something, though they did not know what. I felt deep in my heart that God was the only remedy for these hapless souls. Those multitudes are illustrative of humanity's needs everywhere.
In Texas we have a cosmopolitan population. The foreign peoples, including those born here, though foreigners in every other respect, as given by the latest census, were 613,540.
Of these, approximately 200,000 are Germans, 250,000 are Mexicans, 50,000 Slavic races, 25,000 Scandinavians, 50,000 Jews, while the rest are Japanese, Chinese and others.
It would be interesting to know how these figures are divided religiously, but the figures could not be secured, except that most of them are Roman Catholics, some Lutherans, some few Baptists and Methodists, the rest care nothing for religion. Of the Roman Catholics, the majority are Mexican and Slavic races. What an opportunity for Texas Baptists! Here we have "fields white unto harvest" right at our doors. Here we have a challenge to every Baptist in the state, to seek to reach and win these souls for our Lord.
It is my experience that for the most part these people need to be given some attention. We have altogether too long neglected these strangers in our gates. We are so absorbed in the work with our own American population that we have no time to give them attention; at least, we do not look after them. The plans and methods of our association and state work provide for their scanty. Our missionaries realize how difficult it is to win them, and anxious to make a good report to the board, they neglect the so-called foreigners and go after those who are more easily won.
I have often thought of the "Master Missionary," who went out among the poor, the neglected, the ignorant and the "downs and outs", many of whom did not care for Him and none of whom could have helped Him to make much of a report, if He had been called upon to report to some board. It is sad to say that in some instances some of our people look upon these foreigners with disdain. I wonder if the great Apostle to the Gentiles would have called them "Dagoes", "Sheenies", "Hunkies", and "Greasers"?

These people are human, and their hearts long for sympathetic recognition, kindly word and interest. Not long since two men were seen together at Ellis Island, the gateway into our country, through which these people come. One was well dressed, had an intelligent face, held his head erect and looked prosperous. The other was poorly clad, his face haggard and he seemed like a beggar. Yet these two were brothers. The well dressed man came to this country years ago, and had become an American citizen and a successful business man. The other had just arrived from Russia. Thousands of men and women who come to this country look like this man, through no fault of their own. But give them a chance, in a few years they become useful citizens. They crave human love and interest. They make good farmers, intelligent merchants, keen lawyers, capable engineers, and when converted, the best of Christians.
They need to be shown that God loves them and that He cares for them. They need to be shown this in our daily life, rather than in so many words. They are keen observers. In fact, I have a conviction that in many cases we can reach them most effectively through a kindly, personal interest. My experience is that the task is not as difficult as we have imagined. In every pastorate I have been able to reach them. In one we had in regular attendance of our services, Germans, Bohemians, Italians, Swedes, and Jews. Some of them I was privileged to lead to Christ, and they made us the best of members. In another we baptized 25 Roman Catholics. In still another a number of Mexicans, and in at least two of the pastorate, Mexican churches are today organized and doing work for the Master.

The needs of our friends of other tongues are the more accentuated because in material matters of life, they are for the most part splendid citizens. It is in the realm of the spiritual that they are most pronounced strangers. Foreigners indeed and in truth to the grace of God. Foreigners to the love of God in Christ Jesus. They are blind to the sources of happiness which they so much desire and earnestly seek. They are like the Athenians, whose altar to the unknown God was evidence of their soul-hunger after God, but were ignorant of Him who alone could save them. In their blindness they stumble through life and finally fall into their graves without hope and without God, unless we shall point them to the Cross of Calvary.
In his recent address before the American Legion convention, President Coolidge wisely said: "We are not likely to improve our own condition or help humanity very much until we come to the sympathetic understanding that human nature is about the same everywhere, that it is rather evenly distributed over the surface of the earth, and that we are all united in a common brotherhood. We can only make America first, in the true sense which that means, by cultivating a spirit of friendship and good will, by the exercise of the virtues of patience, and forbearance, by being plenteous in mercy, and through progress at home and helpfulness abroad, standing as an example of real service to humanity." Then closing, the president said: "We must make our supreme commitment to the everlasting spiritual forces of life."

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
The State of Texas: To the Sheriff or any Constable of Brazos County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon J. H. Reynolds, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Brazos County, to be held at the Court House thereof, in Bryan, Texas, on the second Monday in February, A. D. 1927, the same being the 14th day of February, A. D. 1927, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 27th day of September, A. D. 1926, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 11350, wherein J. L. Edge is Plaintiff and J. H. Reynolds, J. W. Davis, and John A. Deering are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on the 17th day of January A. D. 1925, Mrs. O. S. Moore and Mrs. H. C. Wilson, executed and delivered to J. H. Reynolds, their certain warranty deed, conveying to him the following described land and premises, to-wit:

All that certain tract or parcel of land lying and being situated in the Thomas J. Wooten survey in Robertson County, Texas, and described as follows: Beginning at the North corner of a 258 acre tract of land owned by R. H. Seal in said survey said corner being on the South-west line of a tract of land owned by G. W. Tillery, thence N. 30 W. with the South-west line of the Tillery tract and a tract of land known as the Granbury tract to a stake in the South-east line of H. G. Lafor's 200 acre tract; thence S. 60 W. with Lafor's line, to the North corner of another tract in said survey owned by R. H. Seal, same being the most Westerly corner of this tract; thence S. 30 E. with Seale's line to the most Westerly corner of his 258 acre tract; thence N. 60 E. to the place of beginning, containing five hundred acres of land save and except one acre conveyed out of same for school purposes.
Plaintiff further alleges that to secure the payment of the purchase money for said land, the Defendant, J. H. Reynolds, executed and delivered to Mrs. O. S. Moore and Mrs. H. C. Wilson, five certain promissory vendor's lien notes, payable to Mrs. O. S. Moore and Mrs. H. C. Wilson, at Bryan, in Brazos County, Texas as follows:

No. 1 for $500.00 due on or before January 17, 1926, No. 2 for $500.00 due on or before January 17, 1927, No. 3 for $1000.00 due on or before January 17, 1928, No. 4 for $1000.00 due on or before January 17, 1929, No. 5 for $1000.00 due on or before January 17, 1930, each of said notes providing for interest from date until paid at the rate of eight per cent per annum, and providing that failure to pay any of said notes or any installment of interest when due, shall at the election of the holder of them or any of them fully mature all of said notes, and that if same are not paid when due and are placed in the hands of an attorney for collection or if collected by legal proceedings ten per cent shall be added to the amount due as attorney's fees, and that to secure the payment of said notes a vendor's lien was retained upon the above described land in said deed and was acknowledged in said notes.
That after the execution and delivery of said notes, the same were in due course of trade transferred and assigned to the Plaintiff, J. L. Edge, and that at the time of the filing of this suit he was, and that he is now the legal owner and holder of same, and of the vendor's lien retained to secure the payment of same.
That after the execution of said deed and said notes, the defendant J. H. Reynolds, sold and conveyed the above described land and premises to the defendant J. W. Davis, who as part of the consideration for said conveyance assumed the payment of said notes, and withheld a sufficient portion of the purchase money for said land to pay same. That neither the said J. H. Reynolds or the said J. W. Davis have paid said notes, or any portion of same save and except the sum of $---- which was paid on the----day of----and that there is now due and owing on same the sum of $4853.59 as principal and interest and attorney's fees, and that the plaintiff has elected to mature all of said notes.
Plaintiff by supplemental petition alleges that citation has been issued to Harris County, Texas, and copies of same have been served upon J. W. Davis and John A. Deering, but that citation was returned not served as to J. H. Reynolds because he could not be found in Harris County, Texas, and that on October 8th, 1926, interlocutory judgment was rendered against J. W. Davis and John A. Deering, but that said cause was continued as to the defendant J. H. Reynolds, and plaintiff alleges that the residence of J. H. Reynolds is unknown to plaintiff or his attorney and prays for citation by publication as to J. H. Reynolds. For judgment for his debt, interest and attorney's fees, for a foreclosure of his vendor's lien upon the above described property, for costs of suit and for such other and further relief as he may be justly entitled to.
Herein fail not, and have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.
Given under my hand and the Seal of said Court at office in Bryan, Texas, this 12th day of January, A. D. 1927. J. W. BARRON, Clerk District Court, Brazos County, Texas.

A complete grand opera production and a big, special photographic spectacle, make of double attractiveness the performances of the Metropolitan Opera announced for the Assembly Hall at the A. and M. College for Thursday evening, January 13, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Senior class at the College.
This has been made possible by the engagement of the opera company management, for its transcontinental tour, of the Pavley-Oukrainsky Ballet, late terpsichorean feature with the Chicago opera, with M. Andreas Pavley at its head. This splendid acquisition to its already formidable forces gives to the Manhattan company a unique numerical and artistic strength, and now affords patrons the rare opportunity of seeing and hearing, upon the same evening, two different and complete productions for the original price of one. To the thousands of music-lovers and opera enthusiasts whose time and means, perhaps, do not permit them to journey to New York or Chicago, this new and altogether untrod operatic venture proves a revelation.
The Manhattan Opera is, in itself complete in all its various departments, with an array of noted singers, symphonic and choral sections, and carrying on tour a scenic, costumeing and luminous equipment all of which permit of presentations of a strictly metropolitan character and magnitude.

The government forecast of 18,618,000 bales grown on 48 million acres. The acreage increase over 1925 was about one and a half million acres. Two and a half million bales more than the 1925 crop. Too many acres and too much cotton. An increase of 17,000,000 acres in cotton since 1906. If the acre yield had been as much in 1926 as in 1906 the south would have produced about 20 million bales of cotton.

In 1900 Texas planted 7 million acres in cotton. In 1926 we planted 18,363,000 acres. It is estimated that Texas and Oklahoma has 20 million more acres capable of being put in cultivation. In 1924 the south produced 16,135,000 bales of cotton, on 10 million acres less land than acreage in 1926. These figures are given to prove that the acreage and production of cotton is almost unlimited.

We can't compete with all other sections in raising cotton profitably. The only way the all-cotton farmer can make money is for his locality to raise a big crop and other sections make a failure. If the Brazos county farmer can't raise anything but cotton he should move to more favored sections of Texas where he can cultivate more acres and raise more per acre. The prospect for the all-cotton farmer is very discouraging. December cotton is quoted in New York to make the local price for cotton next fall at 11 1-2 cents which is below the cost of production. With nine million bales carry over from this crop can't see much encouragement for the all-cotton farmer.

ABOUT

George Stephan and Judge H. O. Ferguson left Bryan this afternoon for Houston, where they will attend a meeting of the Southwestern Ice Manufacturing Association. This is a group meeting.

The Rainbow Girls will meet at 7:00 o'clock Friday night for installation of officers at the Masonic Hall. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

Hon. F. L. Henderson, Bryan attorney, is in Austin on legal business. He will return either this afternoon or Friday morning.

The story is going the rounds that a well-known Bryan man was stopped by a cop in Houston, who exclaimed: "Don't you know this is a one-way drive?" "Well, I am just driving one way ain't I?" "Where are you from?" "Bryan." "I thought so."

E. J. FOUNTAIN

"When I was 21 I was in the drug business in Bryan, owning the store now operated by E. R. Emmel," said E. J. Fountain, the David Harum of Bryan, who had more experiences before he was old enough to vote than Methuselah had in all of his life of 969 years.

Mr. Fountain was born in Dallas county in Alabama, and came to Texas at the age of 7, locating with his family at Tunis in Burleson county, familiarly known as "Dog Town." The place received this nickname on account of the large number of canines used by hunters in killing deer. In this connection, Mr. Fountain says that he saw a large number of deer come up to the house one Sunday afternoon. He moved to Bryan at the age of 16, and immediately entered upon his romantic business career, which would reflect credit upon the most precocious child.

The first job he tackled is one that has since been hallowed by Red Grange, that of pulling ice for a local ice plant. He says that ice sold for about the same price as it does today, which discounts the sayings that everything is much higher today than in the olden times. Mr. Fountain added that they make ice now by the same methods that they used when he was a boy. His next job was with L. Rubenstein in the dry goods business, and this place could not possibly be considered as a position. He labored for him for $2 per week. When he started in his boss gave him this admonition: "Son, whenever you can't find anything to do, just go home." Well, Mr. Fountain never got to go home except after quitting time.

His next venture was to weigh cotton on the ground that is now known as the Howell block across from the Hotel Bryan. The block was owned by R. W. Carr and J. L. Fountain and he had to pay

In the summer of 1892 a rumor was going through the musical world that Mascagni had found his equal, perhaps his superior, in the person of another young Italian composer.

When the "Pagliacci" by Leon Cavallo was executed in Italy it excited a transport of enthusiasm almost surpassing that of "Cavalleria," so that Berlin and Leipzig brought the opera on the stage as quickly as possible and Dresden followed their example with the same great success.

The idea was suggested to the composer by an event which he witnessed at Montalto in Calabria during the summer of 1885 which impressed him deeply.

In the prologue, a wonderful piece of music, Tonio the Fool, announces to the public the deep tragic sense which often is hidden behind a farce, and prepares them for the sad end of the lovers in the comedy.

The introduction with its wonderful largo is like a mournful lamentation; then the curtains open showing the entry of a troop of wandering actors. They are received with high glee by the peasants, and Canio, the owner of the troop, invites them all to the evening's play.

Canio looks somewhat gloomy and very much resents the taunts of the peasants, who court his beautiful wife, Nedda, and make remarks about the Fool's attention to her. Nevertheless, Canio gives up to their invitation for a glass of wine, and takes leave of his wife with a kiss which does not quite restore her peace of mind. Soon she casts aside all evil forebodings and vies with the birds in warbling pretty songs, which, though the hearer is reminded of Wagner's "Siegfried," are of surpassing harmony and sweetness.

Tonio, the Fool, finding Nedda alone approaches her with a declaration of love; being repulsed he grows more persistent when she seizes a whip and cuts him on the cheek. Provoked to fury he vows vengeance.

Appears, Silvio, Nedda's lover

MERKA-REGMUND

An interesting and beautiful ceremony took place in St. Joseph's church yesterday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock when Mr. Joseph Merka and Miss Anna Regmund were united in marriage by Rev. J. B. Gleissner. A fine supper was served to the wedding guests at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frank Rocman. Many good wishes were extended to the young couple.

ELLBRICH-WATHUBER Tuesday, Jan. 11, at 10:00 o'clock, Frank Ellbrich and Miss Mary Wathuber were married by Rev. J. B. Gleissner in St. Joseph's church. A high mass was celebrated. The music and singing were excellent. A large crowd of friends was in attendance. At the home of the bride's parents a sumptuous dinner was served. Many were the wishes for happiness and success to the young couple.

In this love scene, is a duet of wonderful harmony and sweetness, which is followed by the reappearance of Canio who, failing to recognize Silvio in his flight, attempts to stab Nedda, but is prevented by Beppo the Harlequin; then Canio breaks out into a bitter wail of his hard lot which compels him to take part in the farce which for him is stern reality.

In the second act Nedda appears as "Columbine" and while collecting the money finds time to warn Silvio of her husband's wrath.

The curtain opens—Nedda is seen alone on the stage, listening to the sentimental songs of Arlequin, her lover in the play. Tonio the Fool, enters bringing in the food, (in the play he is Taddeo the Fool) which Nedda has ordered for herself. Arlequin, just as it really happened in the morning, the Fool now makes love to her as Columbine in the play—but when repulsed he humbly retires, swearing the goodness of his lady-love. While Nedda (Columbine) and Arlequin are eating Taddeo reenters to announce the arrival of the husband ("Bajazzo" in the play) who is terribly in earnest, and is a voice and manner so stern that the spectators sense the awful tragedy hidden behind the comedy.

Nedda remains calm and mockingly names the innocent Arlequin as the one who dined with her—which does not convince Bajazzo. He still demands the name, but Nedda though false is not traitress. "Should it cost my life I will never betray him," she cries and attempts to fly for her life, too late.

Canio has already reached and stabbed her and Silvio rushing to her aid also receives his death stroke from the hands of the deceived husband who has heard his name slip from the dying lips of his wife. Canio dismisses the play, "Go, go the farce is ended."

Less condensed in its tragic depths than "Cavalleria" the music is nobler without being less realistic. In Leoncavallo the feeling of artistic form is more developed. Though of Southern temperament he never lets passion get the better of the beautiful and true harmony.

(By Associated Press). MEXICO CITY, Jan. 13.—Pedro Zepeda, representative of Nicaraguan Liberal faction here declared today that Secretary Kellogg and not Liberal forces will be responsible for any loss of American life or property in Nicaragua. He said he had been authorized by Dr. Juan Sacasa, head of the Liberal faction, to guarantee foreign lives and property if American marines are withdrawn.

Will Ma's Bust
Be Taken Away?

(By Associated Press). AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—A report of how the marble bust of Governor M. A. Ferguson came to be placed in the rotunda of the state capitol, was made today to the Texas legislature by H. H. Harrington, chairman of the board of control. Friends financed the expense of the bust which was made by Enrico Carracchio, of Houston, and was placed in the capitol by the board of control, subject to the action of the legislature which must grant or refuse the permission.

Opinion varies as to whether the resemblance of the governor should remain where it now stands conspicuously. Those favoring it offer the argument that she was the first woman governor. Others extol her recognizable merits, because they say she was not responsible for what "Jim" has done to the state, while still others say, "Throw it out."

Harris Well Lost
New Hole Started
In Next Few Days

Harris well, 12 miles from Bryan at Bryan Junction is having the casing drawn today and will be abandoned on account of the flow of water. The casing will be used in another hole which will be started down in a very few days. The log of this well shows that a rotary drill can be used successfully in this section, so the next well will be drilled with a rotary. Those drilling the well are very hopeful of proving a oil field here, according to J. L. Edge.

Boys' Club Rules
Have Been Altered

State Club Leader, Sterling C. Evans, advises that the rules governing membership in boys' club work have been changed so as to permit the enrollment of boys from 10 to 20 years of age instead of 19 to 18, as heretofore. This ruling should result in holding some fine material in Brazos county clubs, that would otherwise be barred from further participation in the work so far as contests are concerned.

The new ruling will permit these older boys to put in two good years in leadership for their clubs and their respective communities, before assuming the further duties of citizenship.

Todd Has Accepted
Place with Citizens
Bank Hempstead

J. H. Todd has accepted a position as cashier of the Citizens State Bank at Hempstead, and will leave Sunday afternoon to begin his duties in the new position Monday morning, January 17.

Mr. Todd entered the employ of the First National Bank of Bryan about fifteen years ago as assistant bookkeeper, later being promoted to bookkeeper, then teller and later teller and assistant cashier. He has built an enviable reputation as a good citizen, courteous, thoroughgoing business man and progressive citizen in Bryan and his friends are numbered by the score. His progress and promotion during the past fifteen years of service in the First National Bank of Bryan are convincing proof of his value in the business world, while his many Christian character and smiling disposition have made it a pleasure to transact business with him. Bryan has indeed suffered a real loss and Hempstead has made a substantial gain.

Dr. C. A. Searcy, a former citizen of Hempstead, and at present one of the directors in the Citizens State Bank of Hempstead, made the recommendation which secured the position for Mr. Todd, and seems quite jubilant over securing the services of such worthy material to fill the responsible position which Mr. Todd has accepted.

OF PARENT-TEACHERS' PLANS

Citizenship, Motion Pictures, Public Safety, Education, Art, and Illiteracy Are Among Problems Studied By Organization of More Than 1,000,000 Women Members

A practical plan for child welfare work was presented to Bryan Rotarians yesterday when Mrs. J. R. Bender, President of the 9th District of the State Parent Teachers' Association, and some of her associates explained the ideals and the work of this organization. The subject was one about which the average man, at least, is densely ignorant, but which men should be concerned.

Purpose of Club "The purpose of the Parent-Teacher movement," Mrs. Bender said, "is to stimulate adult education particularly along the line of juvenile problems, and to promote the welfare of the child in the home, the school and the community. To accomplish these ends we have not only local associations but district, state and national organizations as well."

"The National Congress of Parents and Teachers, with more than a million members, was founded in 1897 by Mrs. Theodore A. Birney of Alabama at a meeting held in Washington. The courage and vision of this woman have been vindicated in these thirty years by the fact that now every state is organized, and the membership, large as it is, will double in my opinion, within the next five or ten years. Texas has had a state association for 18 years the honor for founding which goes to Mrs. Ella Carruthers Porter of Dallas who is still active in the work."

Its Organization The work of the Parent-Teachers is better understood by noting its organization. With only three or four paid officers, the National Congress has five active departments, each under the direction of a national vice-president, and each sub-department directed by a national chairman. The extension department is constantly enlarging the sphere of influence of the work by starting more college, high school, and grade school associations. Study circles are set up and associations even formed in churches. Since most habits are formed before the age of six pre-school circles are established to aid in instilling high ideals in the minds of children.

Subjects Studied Matters of citizenship, motion pictures and public safety are dealt with by the public welfare department, while education, art, illiteracy and such like occupy the attention of the education department. Children's reading and home life find their place in the home service department. The fifth and last of these departments is that of health, where mental hygiene and physical education are among the activities.

State organizations are patterned after the national. This is all financed by the surprisingly low cents of which five goes to the national fifteen to the state and five to the district organization. Each state has its own publication, and the National Congress publishes "Child Welfare."

Ninth District The 9th District, 17 counties, including Brazos has 150 associations after three years of organization. "But our work is only begun," said Mrs. Bender. "With 80,000 children in Texas not in school, and with 12,000 schools without these associations, there is much to do. Look well to the hearthstone. Therein all hope for America lies."

To bring home a realization of what this work means locally, the presidents of three Parent-Teacher Associations in Bryan and College Station told what is going on right now in Brazos county. Mrs. Harry McDowell of Bryan East Side said that her organization is bringing good educational pictures to the school, operating a hot lunch cafeteria in the school and sponsoring good school talent plays, one of which will show in February.

Last year's district president, and the present head of the West Side Association, Mrs. M. R. Bentley, mentioned the addition of playground equipment, and the daily salute to the flag by the children. The flag pole was given by the Masons and the flag by the D. A. R. She stated that the four chief character determining institutions are the home, church, school and amusements, and that the P.-T. A. is trying to correlate these.

Mrs. Reid Speaks Mrs. D. H. Reid, of the Consolidated School at College said that her association had added play-

Arkansas, a state whose reputation for lack of progressiveness has caused it to be the topic of jokes for 50 years, has had a bill introduced in its Legislature to prohibit the teaching of evolution in any tax supported school in the state. If the solons pass this bill it will not be any worse than the bill passed by the Legislature of Kansas that said when two trains met at a crossing, each had to stop and whistle, and the one could not move before the other one did.

The fans are counting heavily on the Aggies giving the Rice Owls a trimming in Houston, but the game will not be an easy victory in Houston. The A. and M. athletic department has issued baseball equipment and the pitchers and catchers are practicing whenever the weather will permit. Coach Rothgeb will not permit his pitchers to throw curves until warmer weather for fear of having too many "dead" whips to bury. Of Interest to the Entire Community

THE REASON

Last year we bought more merchandise than usual and though we have enjoyed a splendid volume we find, at the end of the year, many items that we want to clear out quickly. Feeling that the surest way to quick results is through low prices, we have gone about the task by marking the very best Clothing, Shoes, Furnishings, etc., down to low levels that will be of real benefit to you and bring us the good will that only a genuine, bonafide reduction sale can bring. It isn't a sale merely for profit's sake, but one to insure complete turnover. Come, let us show you the real worth of all the things we offer in this sale.

only $400 per year rent. The owners paid $2,500 for the block, and sold it to the Howell estate for $6,000. Mr. Fountain commented that the ground is worth considerably more than $25,000 now.
His next job was traveling with Charlie Taylor, a knight of the grip, who sold dry goods for Geo. A. Bailey of Philadelphia. They traveled over the entire state, Mr. Fountain's duties consisting of unpacking and packing the samples. The next year Mack Robinson and Mr. Fountain sold drummers samples in Bryan for Mr. Taylor.
Believing that variety is the spice of life, his next affiliation was with McConnico Bros. in the book and stationery business, a store that is now owned by Mayor Tyler Haswell. His next fling was in a drug store working for Ed Stuart.
Feeling the call of education, he went to Philadelphia to attend the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. He came back to Bryan and he and M. H. James bought out the drug store of Deport Smythe & Co. The new owners did not pay $1 down, and asked Mr. Stuart not to negotiate their notes. But Mr. Stuart lost the notes and was compelled to advertise in the newspaper in an effort to try to find them. "And everybody in Bryan knew we were broke," chuckled Mr. Fountain.
Again feeling the need to receive more education, Mr. Fountain went to Philadelphia and studied at the Jefferson Medical College. After a year there he came back to Bryan and purchased the J. H. Webb drug store, taking in W. L. Fountain and Dr. C. P. Fountain with him. Although this may sound rather incredulous, he was only 21 then.
He remained in the drug business for nine years and then bought out the H. K. White farm in the Brazos Valley which proved to be his most profitable adventure up to this time. But the first year it cost him $18,000 to make a crop, and made only 90 bales of cotton, for which he received only 6 cents per pound. The next two years, however, were a different story. This farm is now owned by J. S. Mooring.
He and Frank Clarke then purchased the Dan Zuber grocery store which was located at Yeager's hardware stand. The new owners moved the business in the building now occupied by J. L. Brock. He soon sold out his grocery business, and about 15 years ago he and J. L. Fountain formed a partnership and went into the real estate, loan, and life insurance business.
Mr. Fountain is deeply interested in the Brazos Valley, and is of the opinion that it is as fertile as the Valley of the Nile, only overflows keeping it from being worth from $500 to $1,000 per acre. "When you hit it lucky in the Brazos Valley you make a killing;

In Retrospection
Of our past year's work just ended, and on the threshold of the current year, we wish to sincerely thank our many friends for the confidence they have reposed in us.
During the year we added to our furniture business, Undertaking, with the most modern and efficient equipment. We are glad that having added that Service, we thereby give to the public the opportunity of exercising the privilege of choice, at a time when the Services of an Undertaker are required. Undertaking is not a new venture with us, having had much experience in that business. Hence, at all times, you will find the service we render, one of marked dignity, honor, tactfulness and sympathetic understanding.
Aside from our professional ability, our charges are unusually reasonable.
